Energy Technique plc acquires SIAS FM Service and Maintenance

Energy Technique plc, the Aim listed company, which owns Diffusion Heating and Cooling has concluded a deal with the Administrators of SIAS Building Services LLP to acquire its building services maintenance interests. The new company will trade as SIAS FM Limited.

James Lugg, Chairman of Energy Technique plc, says "It has been the Board's intention to acquire an FM business to compliment and grow the Diffusion business.

Diffusion is renowned for its product quality, innovation, and service. We believe that we can bring these values to the FM sector and SIAS FM is the perfect vehicle. There is a lot of sense in having an FM business that can be enhanced by having in depth and in house product technical expertise.

SIAS FM Limited will work closely with Diffusion Heating and Cooling as a subsidiary of Energy Technique plc to offer "Clients Superior Service".

SIAS FM Limited is a national business with several offices around the UK.

Energy Technique plc is currently pursuing further acquisitions to compliment the SIAS FM business.
